

EDUCATING

MICHIGAN'S TEACHERS

Michigan's independent colleges & universities are strong contributors to the state's education workforce. Each year, Michigan's independent, nonprofit institutions award more than 1,000 degrees and certificates in education. 20 different independent institutions in Michigan offer degree or certificate programs in education with programs in every region of the state.

16,192
DEGREES & CERTIFICATES
AWARDED SINCE 2010

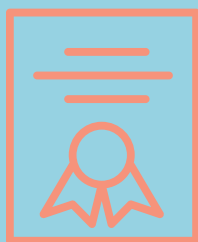

The 20 independent, nonprofit institutions that offer education degrees and certificates in Michigan awarded 16,192 degrees and certificates between 2010 and 2018.

15,874
WORKING IN MICHIGAN

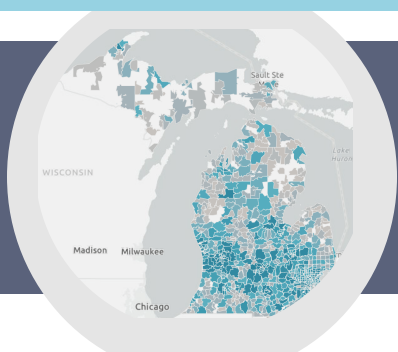

15,874 graduates from 2010 onward from Michigan's independent college & universities are working in teaching and education occupations in the state.

8,106
TEACHING ALUMNI WHO ALSO EARNED A MASTER'S DEGREE OR PHD

Half of the graduates from Michigan's independent colleges & universities who work in teaching and education in the state hold either a master's degree or PhD.

Educating students today to teach
Michigan's tomorrow.